Both the Lokal Anzeiger and the Zeitung Am Mittag regard the note as acceptable to Germany. The Zeitung Am Mittag, commenting on the American answer under the caption, "Wilson's Final Word," says that the German-American crisis, with its danger of a rupture, is now a thing of the past. The paper is not altogether pleased with the manner of expression, but says that that is unimportant. "The main thing," it adds, "is that the relations of the two countries continue, to the great disappointment of all Germany's enemies, who will doubtless now try to interpret the answer hinting that a rupture is only temporarily postponed."

"Germany realize that American citizens cannot be required to suffer for English inhumanity and disregard of laws."

The Zeitung Am Mittag points to the Sussex case as an indication that Germany is prepared to act uprightly and assume the consequences whenever it is wrong.

"We gave notice in our answer," it continues, "that we desired to remain calm and that even in the midst of the present caustic bitterness the voice of reason should be permitted to be heard. America has anticipated that in today's note. If it transpires this acknowledgment into action there will be no longer a German-American issue."

Commenting on the statement in the document that the United States could not accept any conditions affecting the protection of the lives of Americans, the Lokal Anzeiger says that President Wilson is denouncing a man of straw with this statement. "The German note," says the newspaper, "contains no such conditions. It merely expresses an 'expectation' and 'does not doubt' that after the German-American dispute is settled that American government will hold Great Britain to the observance of its duties under international law."

The other newspapers refrain from comment with the exception of Die Post and the Tages Zeitung, in which latter newspaper Count von Reventlow expresses by implication the hope that Germany's "expectation" really amounted to a condition.

AUSTRIAN CONSUL FOILED BOMB PLOT

Tip Puts Secret Service Man on Job and German Fails to Blow Up Ohio Plant.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 11.—Guaranteeing to destroy the plant of the William Tod company in Youngstown, where shrapnel shells are made for the allies, John Swierz, a German working with Charles Dewoody, who he didn't know was a government secret service officer, reached the point where he buried 25 pounds of dynamite near the entrance of the plant.

His arrest and the exposure of the "plot" resulted from a tip which Ernest Ludwig, Austro-Hungarian vice-consul here, gave to the secret service department.

Dewoody, who was arrested with Swierz last night, is investigating further in an effort to determine whether Swierz had intended to obtain assistance in carrying out the "plot."

According to Dewoody, Swierz wrote to Ludwig several days ago offering to destroy the Tod munitions works for $25,000. Ludwig notified the federal officers and Dewoody was present when Swierz called to make the arrangement for carrying out the plot. Dewoody, in the guise of a German sympathizer, was asked by Swierz to aid in the project. He says Swierz bought 25 pounds of dynamite and with the assistance of Dewoody secreted it near the Tod plant.

Dewoody notified the Mahoning county authorities and while he and Swierz were at the spot the police appeared and arrested them. Swierz was much surprised to find that his fellow plotter was a federal officer.

OFFICERS CATCH MOONSHINER. He Had Taken Oath Never to Be Captured Alive.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 11.—Bird McBride, an alleged moonshiner of Mercer county, who had taken an oath that he would never be captured alive, was arrested a few days ago by a posse of federal and special officers who surrounded his cabin home in the mountains near Egers, Raleigh county.

Warrants for the arrest of McBride had been in possession of the United States deputy marshal for several weeks. After his arrest he gave bond for his appearance in the United States district court.

McBride was taken by surprise. He had left his home and when he saw an officer started to run. His foot caught and he fell into a thicket, from which he was extracted and handcuffed.

CUPID SMASHES CLUB. Membership of Bachelor Organization Drops From 100 to 30.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., May 11.—Cupid's broads in the membership of the Albemarle club, a bachelor organization, has resulted in the club dissolving.

An announcement was made that because so many members have been married the membership has decreased from 100 to only thirty. The club was organized in 1897 with thirteen charter members, and one of the first rules was that a member on being married must resign.

At first there were few resignations, but the membership grew rapidly, but recently the members one by one have succumbed to Cupid's darts and only a few remain.

FOOD FROM THE AIR. Effort of Aeroplanes to Relieve British at Kut-el-Amara.

LONDON, May 11.—British aeroplanes dropped 18,000 pounds of food in addition to mail and military and other stores, in Kut-el-Amara between April 11 and 29. This effort to relieve the hunger of the besieged garrison which was subsequently surrendered to the Turks was told of in the house of commons yesterday by Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary under-secretary for war. During the siege of Kut-el-Amara, Mr. Tennant said, only one British aeroplane was brought down by the Turks. The pilot was killed and the observer wounded. The Turks reported that a number of aeroplanes which attempted to drop food supplies were shot down.
